

newsletter november 2010

puo educational products

children • African languages • fun!

Products (buy online!)	Home Matters
first words flashcards vocabulary builder from farm animals to food to family, great way to learn first words... buy now! i love africa t-shirts say it in different languages, wear it with pride ngi thanda afrika, ke rata iafrika, ndi thanda iafrika, which ever way you say it these tees are cool for boys and cute for girls! buy now! learn to count puzzles kunye (1), kubili (2), kuthathu (3) counting made fun with bright colours and wild animals... buy now! my body poster body, sense and expressions touch, smell, laugh, from head to toe all the things our bodies can do... buy now!	The festival season is fast approaching and it is the time to give each other gifts and to share happiness and joy. Who can resist splashing out on festive foods, enjoying the celebrations whilst taking a break for a few days. We have two fun articles: 7 Tips For Learning A Language On The Road and The Place That I Call Home. Check out our guide to children's language development and a great initiative that needs our support especially these holidays "Why not make an effort to speak a few words of the local language? It will lead to a more authentic, fulfilling, unique and memorable travel experience. After all, you're a brave new traveller." read more "Perhaps one of the most outstanding things about my motherland is the range of different communities' customs, food and languages. And it is this diversity that makes our country so colourful and lively!" read more want to submit a short article to our newsletter? email us on info@puo.co.za
"if you go to a town and find its chief sitting on the ground, you must not ask for a stool" African proverb	Bana/Children/Izingane/Kinders/Abantwana
Events: Catch us at the Johannesburg Education and Curriculum for parents and Educators (13 Nov 2010 @ 09h00 - 15h00)	language tips Language is an amazing skill for children to master, and it's a development that many parents really look forward to. The secret to helping your child learn language is very simple: talk lots and listen lots. Here are some of the things your preschooler (4-5) might do as his/her language and communication skills develop read more great initiative Thokomala -Thokomala meaning 'warmth' or 'care' in isiZulu is based on the simple yet effective model of community-based child care. They provide shelter and food but also the love and nurturing of a normal family environment. Placement of orphans in their community of origin ensures they do not lose touch with their roots and the support system is familiar to them read more

