

newsletter october 2010

puo educational products

children • African languages • fun!

Products (buy online!)	Home Matters
first words flashcards vocabulary builder from farm animals to food to family, great way to learn first words... buy now! i love africa t-shirts say it in different languages, wear it with pride ngi thanda afrika, ke rata iafrika, ndi thanda iafrika, which ever way you say it these tees are cool for boys and cute for girls! buy now! learn to count puzzles kunye (1), kubili (2), kuthathu (3) counting made fun with bright colours and wild animals... buy now! my body poster body, sense and expressions touch, smell, laugh, from head to toe all the things our bodies can do... buy now!	Around the world on October 5th teachers will be recognised, praised and saluted. For us in South Africa the day comes with mixed emotions – on the one hand we too greatly appreciate our teachers and sympathise with the tough conditions and challenges that many face on a daily basis. However on the other hand some of that sympathy was lost during the recent strike with the way some teachers disrupted learning amongst students. This month we bring you two articles – one from a young activist who calls teachers to order and another article which celebrates our teachers. Read them both and tell us your opinion "How does it happen that teachers, who are responsible for producing agents of positive change in our country, are being paid the meagre salaries that they are receiving?" read more "Teachers professionalism, dedication, and expertise form the cornerstone of our nation's education system. Without their hard work our scientists, artists and business leaders would not be among the best in the world." read more want to submit a short article to our newsletter? email us on info@puo.co.za
	Bana/Children/Izingane/Kinders/Abantwana
"instruction in youth is like engraving in stone" African proverb	language tips to support the development and strengthening of the mother tongue read more
Events:	great initiative Teach with Africa - works to break down the economic and social barriers to education in Africa by sending teams of educators to implement projects in underserved communities through an exchange of teaching and learning. read more

powered by HeliosDesign | unsubscribe | update profile

This mailing system may only be used for sending permission based email.

If you did not give permission to receive emails from this sender, please notify us.

This email was sent to bhekiwe@puo.co.za by info@puo.co.za | Print / PDF version | Read our Privacy Policy.
PUO Educational Products - Grosvenor Gate, Hyde Lane, Hyde Park, Johannesburg, 2192, South Africa